

CMS CERTIFICATION 2002

JBSIS COMPLIANCE CLARIFICATIONS

1. Providers who withdrew from the first round of business and technical evaluations and have re-applied for the next round will need to go through JBSIS compliance requirements again, before that round of evaluations.
  2. JBSIS Appellate reports 04a and 04b are part of the JBSIS Family Law module. Some providers have requested that they be able to submit them after successfully processing the JBSIS Criminal module reports. This is based on the assumption that the CMS Criminal module is the last remaining module to be certified. Therefore, if you have applied for evaluation of the CMS Family Law Module, you can opt to submit the JBSIS Appellate reports later. Please note that if your application has complied and certified with JBSIS and CMS respectively, in two of the three CMS modules, it will need to be complied with the remaining JBSIS module(s), including Appellate reports, before the third and final CMS module business and technical evaluation.
